

—Dr. Sherman is improving.
—Peter Hank died Sunday and was buried Monday.
—Democratic convention next Friday evening.
—Postoffice sociable at Good Templar hall to night.
—John Baker is on the streets this week with a brand new sprinkler.
—On account of sickness, Rev. Faude was unable to occupy the pulpit Sunday evening.
—Tanner has removed his stock of drugs, stationery, &c., to the room formerly occupied by Little Mack.
—Don't forget Mrs. S. A. Baxter's grand opening of millinery goods next Saturday, at Mrs. Babcock's old stand.
—Phil. Corcoran thinks that one of the leading Greenbackers of Plymouth is a whisky guzzler or an opium eater.
—P. of Flisk, of Hillsdale, Mich., occupied the Presbyterian pulpit Sabbath morning and evening. He is a clear and logical reasoner.
—E. L. Dial, express messenger between Pittsburgh and Crestline, made a run over this part of the route yesterday, and stopped off to see his "ma."
—A full account of the burning of Notre Dame, the celebrated Catholic University, located near South Bend, will be found on the first page of to-day's paper.
—The old National bank block is rapidly disappearing to make room for the new. A temporary building for the bank is being erected just south of Budowsky's.
—McKelvy & Co. sold Timothy Caster's farm 2½ miles south of this city yesterday, to Mr. Solomon Reich, of Crawford county, Ohio. Mr. Reich is a good Republican and will make a good citizen.
—Mr. Timanus, who was injured near Inwood some time since by a stump-puller falling on him, was removed to his home at Bucyrus, last week. Eminent physicians believe there is no hope of his recovery.
—Mr. J. Q. Williams, agent of the Ohio Farmer was visiting Mr. R. J. Gates, of Center township, the past week. During his stay he gave the Republican a call and we found him, like almost all newspaper men, a pleasant and affable gentleman.
—Go to the election next Tuesday and vote for men who will preserve order in our city that money is properly expended and work on our streets done when and where it should be done, and done at what it is worth; in short, vote the Republican ticket.
—Mr. and Mrs. Frame, Quaker evangelists, are this week holding meetings every evening at the M. E. Church. The attendance has been large and is constantly increasing. Mrs. Frame is said by those who have heard her, to be a very elegant and impressive speaker.
—The Good Templars will introduce the novelty of the season in the shape of a postoffice sociable, this (Thursday) evening, and cordially invite the general public to attend and participate in a happy time. Refreshments, including ice cream, &c., will be served during the evening.
—The South Bend Tribune says it has been pretty definitely ascertained that the Notre Dame fire originated from a tinner's furnace that some workmen were using on the roof. They left the roof for a short time, and while they were absent the fire started. Before they could get water to it, it was beyond control.
—At their last regular meeting, Plymouth Lodge No. 49, I. O. G. T., elected the following officers to serve the ensuing quarter: Wm. Kendall, W. C. T. T. H. W. Hoover, W. V. T. T. Whitmore, W. S. W. Morris, W. F. S. S. Miss Emma Yockey, W. T. Wm. Young, W. M. Miss Lizzie Flossenzler, W. L. G.; Jonathan Gander, W. O. G.
—The financial report shows that our city is in good shape. It should be remembered that while the Council has been Democratic we have had a Republican Mayor for the last four years. It will be well to elect Republicans to office next Tuesday, as every councilman holding over is a Democrat, and we shall have a better city government if some Republicans are elected.
—Hon. Geo. A. Netherton, who is now teaching at Tippecanoe, was in to-night Tuesday and as usual called at the Republican office. Mr. Netherton is one of our best teachers, possessing a large amount of general information, thoroughly posted on the current topics of the day and having a practical education, he is able to impart such instruction to his pupils as will qualify them for actual business.

—Extra copies of the REPUBLICAN for sale at this office and at Cresser's news stand.
—Mr. McCroskey residing in the west part of town, informs us that his wife is still dangerously ill.
—Bishop Talbot will administer the Rite of Confirmation in St. Thomas' church next Tuesday evening.
—What can I do as a church member, will be the subject of Rev. J. J. Faude's sermon Sunday morning.
—Vote for the Republican candidate for Marshal, and secure good order and a good name for our city during the next two years.
—Philip Kernig, the oldest, and one of the best citizens of the town of Brecken, made us a pleasant call Monday and renewed for the REPUBLICAN.
—The burnt district in Corbin's and McKelvy's real estate offices at the east end of the REPUBLICAN office is rapidly undergoing repairs, and will soon be worth as much as ever.
—Dr. Kiblinger, of Teegarden, proprietor of Kiblinger & Cook's wonderful curative, made us a pleasant call Thursday, and got some job work done to advertise his medicines.
—Go and hear the Shedd Sisters Saturday evening, "Over the Hills to the Poor House," "The Polish Boy," humorous readings and the best vocal and instrumental music. Only 25 cents.
—J. J. Staley and Quincy Kelly were among our visitors this week who paid for the REPUBLICAN. Mr. Staley also subscribed for the Indianapolis Journal in connection with the REPUBLICAN.
—The Northern Convocation of the Protestant Episcopal church, in Indiana, will assemble in St. Thomas' church, next week. The opening service is to be on Tuesday evening. On Wednesday there will be service at 10 a. m.; essay and discussions at 3 p. m.; closing service at 7:30 p. m.
—Mr. S. C. Bulebaugh, of Clifton, Kansas, who has been visiting friends in this vicinity, started for home Thursday night. She called at the Republican office and subscribed for the paper remarking that she liked Kansas better than Indiana, but could not do without the news from her old home.
—The LaPorte Herald says, Hon. Chas. H. Reeve the free independent Democratic senator of Plymouth, has been in town this week, attending to legal business. Mr. Reeve made a valuable record in the late legislature. He was by far the ablest and most consistent member on the Democratic side.
—The Commissioners convened in special session Tuesday, for the purpose of examining the plans presented by different applicants for the new Marshall county jail. The plan presented by J. C. Johnson, of Fremont, Ohio, was adopted. The jail will cost about $18,000. The Commissioners will purchase a site for the building before adjourning.
—Dunbury Jim, or in other words the Crown Card Co., has retired from active business, donned a slouch hat, a cottonade coat and overalls, and will labor on the streets, make garden, work in the cornfields or do any kind of honest labor at fair prices. Orders for cards sent by mail will be filled during resting spells.
—The candidates left on the Greenback ticket since the declaration of one-half of those originally nominated, and those placed on the ticket are so far as we know men of good intentions, but the reason why no man should vote for them if he wishes good government, will be obvious by reading Secretary Corcoran's editorial to be found in another column.
—Our citizens expect as grand a literary and musical entertainment at the Opera House Saturday evening as has ever been given in Plymouth. The Shedd Sisters, elocutionists and musicians are coming and their fame has preceded them. Such an entertainment is worth more than all the minstrel shows and one horse theatrical performances traveling. The price of admission is only 25 cents. Children ten cents.
—The city council Monday night tendered Mayor Johnson a vote of thanks for the manner in which he has performed the duties of the office. During six years service, two years as councilman and four years as mayor, he has never been absent at a meeting of the council, and the good condition in which we now find the affairs of the city are as much due to him as any one man in the city. Plymouth will never regret having had a Republican Mayor such as Amasa Johnson.
—John F. Langenbaugh, Sr., wishes us to say through the REPUBLICAN that he will not be a candidate for Assessor on the Greenback ticket. Mr. Langenbaugh is a straight Republican, and no man in Plymouth or anywhere else has ever told the Greenback leaders of this city in plainer or more emphatic language what he thinks of the absurdity of the "flat" money scheme, and the rascality of "Brick" Pomeroy than Mr. Langenbaugh. He is a man of too much sense to lend his influence to the support of socialism and the destruction of civil government, which is really the foundation of the "flat" movement.
—Chas. N. Lee, deputy U. S. marshal for Indiana district, arrested James T. Pearce, out on the Simon's farm, on Thursday, the 24th inst., on a warrant charging him with violating the revenue laws in the state of Ohio last winter. Mr. Pearce is a thifty farmer, a man of family, and appears to be a very respectable man. Much credit is due Capt. Lee for the careful manner in which he effected the arrest. He was assisted by our fellow townsman Syl. Beal. Mr. Pearce was taken to Indianapolis Thursday. He protested his innocence and felt sure that he would come out all right.

—A team ran away on east LaPorte street Tuesday, and in less than fifteen seconds had demolished the wagon and were standing quietly within fifty feet of where they started. They ran across the side walk between the rear of Pershing's store and the corn crib a d turning east and then north, attempted to cross the walk where it is about three feet high but could not bring the wheels of the wagon over the walk, and were caught. The driver was thrown off on the start and only slightly injured.
—The annual literary contest of the public high schools of Plymouth, took place Monday evening. Tickets were placed on sale at the postoffice, Monday morning, and long before night every seat was taken. The exercises commenced at 7:30 p. m., opened in the usual form. The judges were Prof. Flisk, of Hillsdale College, Supt. Irwin, Ft. Wayne schools, and Supt. Miller, Michigan City schools. Papers were read by Miss Grace Burton and Miss Lottie Armstrong. Darr Joseph and Fred Hill delivered excellent declamations. C. Drummond and Martin Trainor discussed the question, "Should foreign emigration be encouraged." There were representations of characters from Julius Caesar, songs and instrumental music, and it is conceded by all present that all of the contestants acquitted themselves with honor. The prizes were allowed as follows: Miss Lottie Armstrong on paper "Reveille," Fred Hill, declamation, "The Dying Alchemist." On discussion and representations of characters from Julius Caesar, Martin Trainor was awarded prizes. Miss Lou Houghton, prize song, "Your Mission." The music was under direction of Prof. Mershon, Miss Lillie Dial, pianist.
Our City Election.
Before the next number of the REPUBLICAN is issued, our city election will have been held and officers chosen to direct the affairs of the city for two years.
Many persons think that a city election is not of much importance, and that it is of little use to spend time in going to the polls to vote. Yet every one that will take the trouble to give the matter a little thought will be convinced that the selection of city officers is a matter of no small importance.
It takes a large amount of money to keep everything in order, and everybody is interested in selecting men who understand the needs of the citizens, and will expend money collected for city taxes in such a way as to benefit the greatest number. Again the good name of our town depends largely on electing officers of sound morals, sound sense, business ability, nerve and discretion, men who will enforce the laws, preserve order, and keep our city in a condition that will promote good health and good morals. We want no "trimmers," no men who will cater to a certain class or party of men, or allow themselves to be governed by prejudice or passion. We must elect good men if we want our town to prosper. The times are hard and our people demand that the salaries of officers and the pay of employees shall be in accordance with the times. There are many other reasons why this election should receive the attention of each tax-payer, but these reasons will suggest themselves to thinking men.
The question now arises, what party is likely to give our city the best government at the least expense, a government that will secure good order, make necessary improvements and enable us to hold our place among our sister towns. What party but the party that has during turmoil and strife in sunshine and storm, heedless of the cry of repudiators, and those who seek to destroy constitutional government, bravely maintained its integrity and stands to-day solidly in favor of honesty and economy, the grand old Republican party, the party that in spite of the cry of agitators, who sought to ruin our fair name and fame among the nations of the earth has moved gradually on, turning aside neither to the right nor to the left, always advocating the discharge of every honest obligation, and demanding that other nations shall discharge their obligations to us; the party that has preserved our credit and made the money of the poor man as good as the money of the rich—that has made greenbacks as good as gold. That party can always be depended on, and its ticket nominated to-night (this was written Wednesday) will be a ticket that should command the support of every man who favors law and order and good government. While other parties may place good men in nomination, the men of no other party will have the same influences surrounding them that members of the Republican party have.
The Democratic party, for years accustomed to disregard principle and adopt any policy and declare themselves in favor of any platform that is likely to secure success, has become so demoralized that its members have not the least idea of what its policy really is or will be in the future. The so called Greenback party, which is really the party of disorganization and destruction of constitutional government, while it has in its ranks many good men who have been deceived as to its real objects, should not receive the encouragement of any man who loves his country or its institutions. What then is the duty of every man who wants a good government—a government that will preserve order, make necessary improvements, honestly and economically? We believe that the good men of every party will see by giving the subject a little thought, that it is to vote the Republican ticket next Tuesday.

The Fire Saturday Morning.
About two o'clock Saturday morning the night watch discovered that Corbin's block, on the corner of Michigan and LaPorte streets, was on fire. Soon the fire bells were ringing and the firemen with hundreds more of Plymouth's citizens were hurrying along the streets. The smoke pouring out of McKelvy's and Corbin's windows told that the fire was not a miniature one, and that the entire block was in great danger. McKelvy had reached the building before the engine could get into position and attempted to enter and if possible save his books and valuable papers, but the smoke and flames drove him back and he gave up all as lost. But now Plymouth's gallant firemen had their engine in position and were soon to show that they could save the block from destruction, where unorganized effort without the aid of an engine would have been utterly powerless, and in twenty minutes the hundreds, that believed on their arrival that within a few minutes the REPUBLICAN office and Houghton's and Crawford's stores below would be wrapped in flames, to end perhaps in the destruction of the entire block, saw the flames subdued. Up the stair-way and in the window from LaPorte street two steady streams of water were poured and the fire was extinguished, with only about two hundred and fifty dollars damages to the building. Messrs. McKelvy and Corbin lost a considerable amount in stationary, etc., while the goods in Crawford's crockery store were damaged about two hundred dollars by water with which the room was flooded. Houghton Bro. grocers, sustained some damage from the same cause. Both firms were fully insured.
The REPUBLICAN office, separated only by a partition from the room in which the fire raged, escaped unharmed. Without a fire engine and a disciplined band of firemen it must have been entirely destroyed. The fire originated near the partition in one or the other of the real estate offices. How it originated will probably never be known, but the prevailing opinion seems to be in favor of spontaneous combustion of refuse matter, either in the closet used by McKelvy for storing his wood, or under the stair-way in Corbin's office. Others think that a mouse found dead in the room the next morning had nibbled a parlor match thrown in with other combustible material and started the flames, but from whatever source the fire originated, Plymouth feels thankful that one of the finest business blocks in the city escaped destruction.
City Republican Convention.
The convention at the Opera House last night was large and enthusiastic. The following excellent ticket was presented: For Mayor, W. B. Hess; Treasurer, W. C. Shirley; Clerk, Charles R. Leonard; Assessor, H. R. Pershing; Marshal, John C. Kuhn; Councilman First Ward, Joseph H. Bennett; Second Ward, John Dial; Third Ward, Dwight L. Dickenson.
James E. Houghton was Chairman of the convention, and the best of feeling prevailed. Now let every body go to work and help to elect one of the best tickets ever nominated in Plymouth.
Owing to the declaration of John Dial, the Republicans of the 2nd ward will meet at the Republican office Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, sharp, to nominate a candidate for councilman.
Blue Ribbon State Convention.
The second annual convention of the Indiana State Christian Temperance Union (Blue Ribbon) will meet in the temperance hall, 75 E. Market Street, Indianapolis, on Wednesday, the 14th day of May, 1879, at 2 P. M.
A two days session will be held. All local unions throughout the state will be entitled to five delegates each. Please correspond with headquarters and we will issue certificates whereby the delegates will receive excursion rates over all the railroads centering in this city; all arrangements to that effect have been made. Business of much importance to the temperance people will be brought before the convention.

Through the earnest solicitation of many of his friends, permission is obtained to announce the name of James W. Logan, as a citizens candidate for the office of Marshal for the city of Plymouth, Ind.
Marshall County Temperance Convention.
The different temperance organizations of the county are requested to meet at the Blue Ribbon hall in Plymouth, Friday May 10th, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of county organization. Every organized society will be allowed three delegates. Come and help to roll on the temperance ball.
Good speakers will be present to address the convention, and also the meeting at night.
H. G. THAYER, V. P. State temperance society.
Fire! Fire! Fire!!!
It will take something worse than fire to stop McKelvy & Co. from selling farms, as they have some 8 or 10 nicely improved homes near the city, that they intend closing out within the next 30 days at damaged prices. Call soon and get a bargain.
